

Spring is again with us, and after a grey and cold winter,

I have the pleasure to present the MV-Boat shipyards news and events!

After more than 6 months of work, a new Pointu is reaching completion... her launch is planned for the beginning of April. She's a version fitted with a cabin, for making longer trips with a night at anchor, or taking shelter from a summer storm possible, with the safety of a CE certificate, category C for 6 people.

You'll be able to see her on my site, <http://www.mv-boat.com/> or in Monaco, where she will be based.

But Mv-Boat doesn't just make modern versions of traditional work boats, we also build the Classic Power Evolution, pushing the technology of electrically powered boats to new levels...

Finished in varnished mahogany, with timeless and seductive lines, fitted with an electric power plant with a range of thirty nautical miles; the fill of energy costs less than 1 euro!

After a 2011 season of presentations and sea trials (in the Mediterranean and on Lac Léman), the idea has made people use their conscience, and improve the technical evolutions which make this type of boat a reality, without adversely affecting either aesthetics or sea-worthiness.

The Classic Power Evolution will be shown in Paris, France, between the 29th of March and the 1st of April 2012 in the "Sustainable Luxury Fair" (www.1618-paris.com) and it's with pleasure that I will present the boat during your visit.
